IMPORTANT IDENTITY NOTES Please note. The chassis number is stamped (not cast) into the knuckle which joins the front of the right chassis side rail to the front cross-tube (sometimes referred to as the "dumb iron"). The front apron must be removed in order to see it. The engine number is stamped (not cast) into a small boss on the left hand side of the crank case either in the centre or just above the starter motor (depending on model). Both may require the removal of many layers of paint and oil! The Guarantee Plate on the firewall also has the chassis and engine numbers on it, but the plate might not be the original one for the car so do not rely on these numbers being correct.
PLEASE SUPPLY PICTURES OF: a) The car in its current condition, b) the chassis front knuckle stamping, c) the chassis number stamped on the bonnet hinge, d) the brass guarantee plate, e) the engine number, f) the gearbox number, and g) any numbers stamped on the interior woodwork of the body tub and h) pictures of relevant documents, e.g. old-style log book pages or other evidence of the car's history.
