IMPORTANT IDENTITY NOTES

Please note: Before the Register can issue a Register Number we ask owners to provide us with a photograph of the main identifying features, namely the chassis number, which is stamped (not cast) into the knuckle which joins the front of the right chassis side rail to the front cross-tube (sometimes referred to as the "dumb iron" or "knuckle"). On most cars the front apron must be removed in order to reveal it.

The Triple-M Register operates a database in which we record details of all known surviving Triple-M cars. The database includes personal data of those who, to the best of our knowledge, are currently owners of Triple-M cars, as well as former owners. The details are held as part of the Register's duty to maintain, so far as possible, a continuous record of the histories of all of these cars.

Any owner or former owner of a Triple-M car is entitled to enquire of the Register about their personal data held on the database or in the Register's other records - indeed we encourage all owners to contact us, as it is only through this that we can ensure that our records are as accurate as possible!
